Volunteering at The Shakespeare Hospice

We are an award-winning Hospice and the largest independent Day Hospice in the West Midlands, offering a diverse range of services across South Warwickshire and the North Cotswolds.

Costing more than £2 million each year to deliver our services, we depend on volunteers in almost all of our work to fulfil our goal of providing free care to patients and their families.

Our primary aim is to help more people and it is incredible to think that more than 350 volunteers support this aim. Members of the community bring a wonderful diversity of skills helping us to address a growing need. Volunteers help to form the backbone of the Hospice, enabling us to deliver the highest quality of care and support to our patients and their families.

You can join us on a regular or occasional basis and we have many different roles reflecting volunteers' individual skills, interests and availability.

Our volunteers...

Volunteering at the Hospice is so worthwhile and exceptionally rewarding. I get to meet so many interesting people while working on reception - I have made many new friends and it has opened many new horizons for me with various social events to attend! The Hospice helped our family so much - the staff are just amazing and volunteering is just one small way to say 'Thank You' for all the support that was given when we needed it most.

I love volunteering, because I can give something back to the Hospice. It is also partly a social thing, as I enjoy meeting people and getting people involved with fundraising at the big events. Volunteering is good fun and a great chance to meet people. I like being able to support the Hospice, it is very rewarding!

I started volunteering in the bookshop last year as I was looking for a role that involved valuing and displaying books. It's a very enjoyable place to work, seeing the both locals and visitors showing their support for the Hospice's work by browsing and selecting from our wide range of books, and by enjoying time in the cafe. Sonya, Stratford upon Avon Bookshop Volunteer

Are you our next brilliant volunteer?

“Stop thinking about it and do it!”

“Have the confidence to try it. There are many positions for volunteers. Find the one that’s right for you!”

“I have met loads of new friends, there’s a great atmosphere and it’s all for a fantastic cause!”

“It’s lovely to see how much comfort and support the Hospice gives people at such difficult times in their lives.”

If you can offer some time, we’d love to hear from you!
